RE: Freedom of Information Act 2000 Request

I write in response to your Freedom of Information Act 2000 (or 'FoIA 2000') request dated 11 June 2021, which stated:

“The rationale in HCOG 2014 and in the October 2021 iteration for recording NCHIs is that they are a necessary measure to prevent escalation to hate crime.

1. What empirical research has The College conducted as to the effectiveness of this policy since 2014?
2. What non empirical research has The College conducted as to the effectiveness of this policy since 2014?
3. What third party research is The College aware of that has been conducted since 2014?

Please provide research copies or links where possible.”

When a request for information is made under FoIA 2000, a public authority has a general duty under section 1(1) of the Act to inform an applicant whether the requested information is held. There is then a general obligation to communicate that information to the applicant. If a public authority decides that the information should not be disclosed because an exemption applies, it must, under section 17(1) cite the appropriate section or exemption of the Act and provide an explanation for relying upon it.

Decision

After conducting careful searches for information that falls within the scope of your request, I can confirm that there is no information held.

I trust this letter answers your questions. Your rights are provided in Appendix A.

Yours sincerely,
